The UK Energy Research Centre has created three tools to assist policy makers and researchers to review the current status of UK Energy Research and Development, and identify the key research challenges

Research Register On-line searchable database of energy-related awards and projects.

Landscape Describes energy-related research activities and capabilities in the UK, classified by Energy Category

Roadmaps Identifies the sequence of research (and other) problems to be overcome before new technologies can be commercially viable. Classified by Energy Category
Initially this will comprise a systematic characterisation of existing energy research roadmaps.
